How are rewards earned?

Every time you use your Milford Bank Debit Card for a Visa credit or on-line transaction, you will earn at least one point for every $2 you spend. Shop with some local and Internet retailers and earn much more. For more details and a complete list of retailers offering additional rewards, go to www.uchooserewards.com.

Are rewards earned every time I use my debit card?

You earn rewards every time you use your card and sign for your purchases. ATM withdrawals, cash back, tax and tips are not eligible for debit card rewards.

What can I get for my earned rewards?

A complete catalog is available on-line at www.uchooserewards.com. It lists a wide variety of products and services which include electronics, housewares and jewelry, spa treatments, outdoor adventures, theater and concert tickets and travel vouchers. The possibilities are almost endless.

How many points do I need to accumulate before I can redeem them?

Only 1,000 points must be accumulated before you can begin redeeming them.

Can I share points with a family member?

Rewards points are accumulated by account, not debit card. If you have two debit cards linked to your checking account, both you and the other account owner will accumulate points together. If you have two checking accounts with two debit cards, the two cards can be linked to one UChoose Rewards Account by request.
